Silvar — 2026-08-27

Introduction

This privacy policy describes how Silvar collects, uses and protects personal data when you visit our website and communicate with us. We take your privacy seriously and are committed to transparency about our data processing practices.

What data we collect

We collect data in two ways:

1. Contact form: When you fill out our contact form, we ask for your name, email address, phone number and message. We use this data solely to contact you and handle your request.
2. Website analytics: We use analytical tools to collect basic information about website visits, such as which pages you visit, how long you stay and which browser you use. This helps us improve our website.

Legal basis for processing

We process data from the contact form because you voluntarily provide it to us to submit a request. This is necessary for performing the services you request.

We process analytical data based on our legitimate interest in better understanding and improving our website.

Cookies

Our website uses cookies. These are small files stored in your browser to enhance your experience and collect analytical information. You can disable cookies in your browser settings, although this may affect the functionality of our website. When you visit our website for the first time, we inform you about our cookie use.

Sharing data with third parties

We do not share your personal data with third parties, except where necessary to perform our services. For example, we may share your data with our email service provider to send you a response to your form request. We ensure that such processors have signed agreements that ensure your data is handled securely.

How long we retain your data

We retain contact form data for as long as necessary to answer your request and handle any follow-up questions, normally no longer than two years. Analytical data is automatically anonymised after a few months. You can request that we delete your data sooner.

Your rights

You have the right to:

- Request access to your personal data that we hold
- Request that we correct or update your data
- Request that we delete your data

- Object to certain processing activities

To submit any of these requests, please contact us using the contact details below.

Security

We apply appropriate technical and organisational measures to protect your personal data against unauthorised access, modification or loss. While we strive for high security standards, no method can be 100% secure. Please notify us immediately of any suspicious activity.
